

WE CAN'T LET THE SLAUGHTER CONTINUE

HB McCall Qualified Tuesday

H. Bunn McCall, qualified Tuesday from North Borough now has three contenders for the commission seat. They are, George C. Young, incumbent Aubrey Farmer and McCall.

As of press time Wednesday, Mayor Bill J. Bailey is unopposed in Central Borough and the West Borough seat is a three man race. From West Borough are Willie, "Bill Knight" Pyfrom, Davis Kiehligher, and "Ray" E. Alston.

Qualifying, McCall said:

"In response to many requests by citizens of Belle Glade I am offering myself as a candidate for the City Commission. As a candidate, I wish to state that I believe in a government 'Of the People, By the People and For the People,' not one for individuals, special interest groups or for political expediency."

"I am old enough to exercise mature judgment, young enough to be progressive in my thinking. I believe that my education and business experience, particularly in the field of finance, qualifies me to seek a seat on the Commission. Our City is a big business and needs a businessman to help operate it."

"I will have an open door and an open mind to the people of Belle Glade and their needs and desires. If elected I will seek to better our City in every way possible without burdening you with increased taxes. I will be happy to discuss these matters with you at any time."

"I ask that you join with me in building a BETTER BELLE GLADE."

Farm Bureau To Hold Meet In Clewiston

The city of Clewiston will be the site of the first of five important Florida Farm Bureau Federation policy development meetings, August 25, (Tuesday) according to an announcement today by FFBF officials.

"At south Florida farmers interested in the development of Farm Bureau policies for the coming year are invited to meet in Clewiston for a full day of discussion of policies and problems most important to them," Art Kane, FFBF president said in announcing the meeting.

The meeting will be held at the Clewiston Inn beginning at 10 a.m.

Besides the policy development discussions, a highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of a $1,000 scholarship award to Sherril Burgess, Belle Glade, who recently was chosen first place winner, girls' division, of the annual Winn-Dixie—Florida Farm Bureau Federation scholarship competition.

"Unlike many organizations today," Kane explained, "Farm Bureau direction begins from the bottom and goes to the top. It is at the grassroots level that our policies are decided. We are proud of this policy development procedure and hope that the Clewiston meeting will attract farmers from throughout south Florida," he concluded.

An Open Letter To The Governor

The Honorable Claude R. Kirk, Jr., Governor Tallahassee, Florida

Governor Kirk:

Saturday three Belle Glade residents died on State Road 80. This tragic accident also took the life of one other man and injured four children. Belle Glade knows through experience the meaning of what the State Road Department calls the "High Fatality Rate" on State Road 80, for these were not the first of her citizens whose lives have been claimed on this road.

This road, the single link to Florida's East coast for Glades' residents will become more hazardous as traffic increases. The Glades population is growing. The multi-million dollar Lion Country Safari and Pahokee State Park at opposite ends of Palm Beach County State Road 80 forecasts increased tourist traffic.

Glades citizens want to know what is being done? A four lane highway is included in the proposed Road Bond Issue. We do not think a penny paid on each gallon of gas to too great a price to pay for Florida's, and the Glades' vitally needed roads.

We are tired of the constant talk and no action policies that prevail. We ask that you issue a statement on your policy and action in putting the road bond issue before the public and urging it from education as it exists in its present form.

For the citizens of Florida, Floridians who see the need for better roads and Sunshine State tourist for whom we must provide adequate transportation facilities, we ask your urgent consideration of the Road Bond issue or another suitable program for constructing the state's urgently needed highways which the existing method of financing cannot provide.

Eyesores Will Remain Unless Property Owners Act Now

Wreckers picking up junk cars, free of charge, will leave the Glades this week for lack of business, the Chamber of Commerce announces.

Property owners must call South Florida Sanitation or the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce and order the removal of the junk cars on their property because the city does not have the necessary authority to condemn them.

The cars are on property throughout the city, but owners are not responding to the free service being offered. The wrecking service will remain in the Glades as long as they have cars to pick up, but will move their operations back to the coast if more property owners do not respond.

Below is a photo of the original eyesore of the week appearing in the Herald two months ago. It is still there, and will remain unless our city council takes action to remove such vehicles when permission of the owners is not forthcoming. It is not in the best interest of the community or it's citizens to allow a minority of indistinct or absentee property owners to clutter our city with condemned buildings, junk cars or other eyesores.

Below are two "new" eyesores, two of many that could be removed with only a phone call.

Church Of God Is Planning Revival

With 15 days of revival less than two weeks away, the Belle Glade Church of God is doing all that it can to have one of the greatest revivals in its history, stated Rev. M. W. Sindle, pastor.

Rev. Sindle said the church has been fasting and praying for many weeks. Cottage prayer meetings are in progress and every effort is being made to tell the community of the coming meeting.

The Evangelist Rev. William F. Morris, Rev. Sindle said, has been planning this meeting for over two years and has asked the community to help them pray for an old-fashioned move to God that will transform the city and its people for God.

The revival begins at 11 a. m. service Sunday, September 3 and will run through the 17th. Pastor M. W. Sindle can be contacted at 996-2932 for further information.

Homes Wanted

Pahokee Housing Authority tenants are living in condemned shacks.

Their goal is owning a home, a privilege which has been denied Negroes in the Pahokee area, group leaders say.

Sure, some Negroes do own homes in Pahokee, they admit, but so few that the possibility of a farm worker's family owning a home is almost non-existent, said one head of a household. This family of about $200 a week during the growing season, has a new car, and lives in two rooms with five children. "We can make payments on a home as just like we pay for our car, doubling up during the season in preparation for the slow months."

Gathering together, these home owners have investigated a federal program which will enable them to construct homes contributing to the cost by working on the construction crew.

Arrangements are being completed for the purchase of 20 acres which will be subdivided by this building program. Additional acreage will be bought in 10 acre tracts up to a maximum of 50 acres, leaders say.

This program is geared for farm workers who receive special consideration under the program. Farm workers will put in up to 1,000 man hours in the construction, receiving credit for this work towards the cost.

Under this program, a $10,000, three-bedroom home can be purchased with monthly payments of $38. Others besides farm workers may participate in the program but are not eligible for the payment of man hours and their monthly payments on the same house will be $55. These mortgages will be granted at 5% interest rate. If a family wants a large house than the minimum standards call for, they must still participate but interest cost will be about one and one half per cent higher.

The desire for home ownership is intensified every day in the camp life. It is sparked when a mother watches the maintenance crew fastidiously working on the home and grounds of the camp superintendent while here children play in grass that has been unused for weeks and is almost a foot high. This is the same grass the family has to walk through everytime they want to use the bathroom facilities which consists of four toilets serving 10 or 15 families.

The family looks at its tented home. They see a wooden building unpainted for as long as they can remember and to them, if the residents are partitioned into four rooms that could be termed respectable sized closets.

Turning their back on a continued existence as renters, even under better conditions, the city is being taken up. "We want homes of our own" and they have sought out the means to accomplish their ends.

BPW's Meet Here Monday

Mrs. Louise Bernard hosted about a dozen Business and Professional Women's Club members at her home Monday evening, August 14.

Miss Hummel Back From Trip

Carol Hummel has just returned from a month's vacation during which she visited her sister, Mrs. Donald J. Hinson at Laurel Bay, South Carolina, and friends near Eagle Mere, Pennsylvania and Boston, Mass. While in Boston she toured the Museum of Art Wellesley College and lovely scenic Nahant Island, she reported. A side trip was taken to Bery and Concord, New Hampshire, and the fishing and resort village of Kennebunk and Perkins Cove on the Maine Coast.

Highlights of the trip were picking berries and hiking in the Pennsylvania mountains, seeing the original of "The Tort Hare" by Thomas Sully, hearing on Nahant Island, meeting Madame Colin, close associate of Arthur Goldberg at the United Nations, and a visit to a home in which Abraham Lincoln spent a night in Baltimore, Maryland.

meeting, presided over by Mrs. Jean Burns, appointees for the new chairmanships were announced. Discussed also was the committee that will work on the proposed September 4 Boat-A-Cade, and the new yearbook.

The Finance Chairman, Juanita Croft, presented a money-making project.

After refreshments were served, everyone attended a pool party in Mrs. Bernard's swimming pool.

Gardening Tips

GAINESVILLE, FLA. — The scale insect possesses a talent for undercover work that would surprise not only homeowners but even some secret agents.

Often the presence of a scale insect infestation is not noticed because many scales are found primarily on the undersides of leaves on ornamentals, according to L. C. Kuitert, entomologist with the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences.

Most scale insects attach themselves to their host plant soon after hatching, and rarely do these insects move from their feeding sites. Mealybugs, which are also in the scale insect family, remain mobile throughout life. Typically, scales appear as small specks with a waxy covering that may be powdery, cottony, or in a solid cover. They range in size from about 1/16 to 1/4 inch in diameter.

"Scales feed by inserting a tiny beak into the plants and sucking plant juices. Heavily infested plants appear unhealthy and produce very little new growth. Some species infest only the foliage, others are found only on the branches, while others may attack both foliage and branches," Kuitert warned.

Scale insects are much more difficult to control as they are in the culture of the plant. On camellias, for example, the tea scale requires almost constant attention. The Florida wax scale is commonly found on gardenias and hollies, and the Florida red scale can be an important pest of many ornamental plants.

Scale insects are much more difficult to control as they become older, larger, and as infestation builds up. Kuitert recommends frequent inspections of ornamental plants and thorough spray applications when the scales are still in the young stages.

Dimektoate 2E — sold under the trade name of Cygon — is, according to the entomologist, probably the most effective single pesticide for scale control.

He cautioned against using cygon on crepe myrtle or butterfly holly because of possible plant injury.

Other materials including malathion and oil emulsions are commonly used for scale control. But oil emulsions can injure ornamental plants if they're applied during hot weather, Kuitert said.

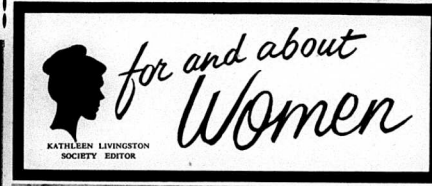

Combinations of malathion plus oil — or ethion plus oil — have also been effective. Prepared mixtures of these are commercially available.

For further information, contact your county agent, or consult Extension Entomology Mimeograph No. 34.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville T. Sheahan of 100 S. E. 5th St., N., Belle Glade today visited the Ringling Museum while vacationing on Florida's lower west coast.

Tragedy Struck On State Road 80 — Again

The tragedy that struck last Saturday on State Road 80 is nothing new, certainly the only thing new is the agony and pain suffered by those involved, the mental anguish of those relatives and friends of the dead and injured.

This story has been repeated year in and year out. In the Glades, few families in the area have been spared the loss of a relative or friend on this killer road.

There was not one politician that visited the Glades during the last campaign that didn't promise to do something to get us a four-lane highway. That was before the election, and now we wait, as we have in years past, for those campaign promises to become reality.

Unfortunately we cannot afford to wait much longer, for the next victim may be you or I or perhaps a loved one.

We cannot allow this slaughter to continue but how can one person do anything about it? Our views will never be considered unless they are heard. On the front page of this week's paper is the Herald's letter to Governor Kirk.

For Your Information:

The Road Bond issue now under consideration, having been presented in the Senate during regular session, depends upon repayment of bonded indebtedness through license tag sales. This repayment would only be made after a prior commitment of these monies to education had been met. This second mortgage effect for finance the bonds will mean the state will have to pay higher interest rates because the bonds will not receive a high financial rating by the bond experts.

Florida is one of about 14 states in the nation in which this situation could exist. Other states, in financing progressive road programs have provisions in their constitution demanding that when taxes are collected from users, the monies derived will be spent for the use which it was collected. If Florida had such a provision, license tag monies collected from automobiles users, would be returned to the highway system of the state. However, that is not the case in Florida. Hence, the Road Bond, in its present form is hitched to education, a politically volatile subject in Florida. We are opposed to such a marriage and opposed to the additional interest this state would have to pay financing the bonds through license tag sales. Two alternative financing solutions have been proposed. (1) an additional 1c per gallon gasoline tax. Revenue from this source will receive excellent ratings from financing experts, permitting lower interest. In addition it will distribute the tax equally among all users of the roads. (2) an additional 2c tax on each gallon of gasoline to end in 10 years for a 'pay as you go' construction program. The program will carry a constitutional provision for ending the tax in 10 years. This approach says its introducer Senator Ralph Poston will mean about a billion dollars available for road construction during the next ten years. That amount includes the monies available under the present financing system for road construction. Such a program is much broader in scope and more ambitious than the proposed $435 million dollar bond program. The proposed bond program is considered by those who should know as being merely a catch-up method for Florida roads and not a permanent answer to the problem.

We will also send copies of this letter to members of the Palm Beach County legislative delegation, to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, as well as legislators who have expressed an interest in the road bond program. Such channels are open to all interested citizens. That should include everyone who is interested in saving his life and the lives of friends and loved ones.

One other method we have of letting our ideas be known is voting, not only in the voting booth but in public opinion polls. The HERALD staff will coordinate the gathering of Glades public opinion and present it, in mass, to the responsible state officials including the Governor. Provided below are two forms that you can fill out and return to us at BELLE GLADE HERALD, Box 760, Belle Glade, Florida, 33430. The forms are identical and are provided in duplicate because it is a fact that about 3 people read each issue of a newspaper and we hope that at least 2 of the three persons who read this issue will want to make their wishes known.

Incidental, while we was on the money subject, I see where a agency named Tax Foundation Inc. has made its annual prediction for 1967. They say the average U. S. family will pay $3,300 in 1967 in federal, state and local taxes. I ain't got up the $300 yet so, on second thought, I better not talk to my banker about this new international banking procedure.

Well, I got my handout from the Agriculture folks this morning. They was a item in it saying, on account of the new farm wage law, we now got a half million farm laborers out of work. The small farm owner can't pay the high wage scale and was quitting. I reckon both the workers and owners will get hooked up with the poverty and welfare programs and make it better's ever.

There went the rest of your $3,300, Mister Editor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Letter To The Editor

FEA-CTA, Employing Gutler-Like Tactics

Dear Editor:

The vicious harangues of the leadership of the F.E.A. and C.T.A. teacher organizations purporting to be in the best interest of quality education, is developing public antagonism against all of our teachers.

That improvements in education, as well as teachers' salaries, should be made will not be denied by most of our citizens, but the manner in which these self-styled leaders are repulsive, unreasonable, and inexcusable. To date, these tactics run the gamut from degradation and vilification of the State Executive and Legislators, omission threats to parents of school-aged children, attempts to prevent new industry from entering the State of Florida, dissuading new qualified teachers from seeking employment in our public schools, to a new low in professional conduct by sending letters of intimidation to the teachers in a effort to coerce them into support a walkout (strike) at the beginning of the school year. To assume that these tactics can provide quality education is the epitome of absurdity.

All the citizens of Florida should rise in righteous indignation to counter this vicious and reckless program before it turns our fine educational system into chaos. Letters, telegrams, and telephone messages should flood the offices of all local and state officials, instructing them to reject and ignore any of the demands made by the F.E.A. and C.T.A. leaders. Responsible teachers should disregard the brazen threats received, and boycott any proposed walkout. Further teachers should resign or refuse to renew memberships in both the F.E.A. and C.T.A. organizations.

Without public support, legislative support and, most important, financial support (derived chiefly from membership dues), these self-styled leaders will be forced to resign or to adopt a more reasonable and intelligent program to acquire the means to provide and promote quality education.

George C. Dorste

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

From the things I have said in the papers this week, matters was barely holding their own around the country. First off, things that was falling in Washington was arches, trade, rain and hot air, while in the rest of the country things that was rising was taxes, prices and prayer for deliverance. Fer instance, I got this item on my table from a official of the U. S. Treasury Department. He says, "The financial problems of the elderly come down essentially to a lack of income." That feller, Mister Editor, must be a deep thinker and I wouldn't be surprised none if he ain't in the top salary bracket. It makes me recollect the time I was in the U. S. Department of Agriculture told Southern farmers the way to kill off the boll weevil was to stop growing cotton for a couple year. I reckon both of them was in to the feller that burnt down his barn to get rid of the rats.

And speaking of the Treasury Department, you will recollect here about a year ago they announced they wasn't mining no more silver dollars on account of the cost of silver had gone in orbit. Well, I see where they was not making any more $2 bills. Silver was one thing, but the price of paper was holding steady and the only way I can figure it out is that the $5 bill has now got the buying power of a $2 bill and they was avoiding duplication? I am to write to my Congressman about the penny, it ain't good for nothing no more except the parking meter and sales tax. They could turn out a wood slug for their purposes a dead cheeper.

But this feller Nasser has put the stopper in the money mine on her debts to any country that cut off loans to Egypt. I reckon both of them was in to the feller that burnt down his barn to get rid of the rats.

Well, I got my handout from the Agriculture folks this morning. They was a item in it saying, on account of the new farm wage law, we now got a half million farm laborers out of work. The small farm owner can't pay the high wage scale and was quitting. I reckon both the workers and owners will get hooked up with the poverty and welfare programs and make it better's ever.

There went the rest of your $3,300, Mister Editor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

THE TRAGIC TRUTH

In the Middle Ages, the church-people offered a sanctuary. Men and women who were persecuted by ruthless robbers found safety before a church and find safety before an altar. Tragically, however, churches in our time have offered sanctuary to those who foment hatred and stir strife in American communities.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal warned recently that "the church is a sanctuary for those in trouble and need, but not for hate-filled teachers of race war."

This editorial comment was prompted by a shocking situation disclosed in the great Southern educational center of Nashville, Tenn. Testimony given by a Nashville police official before a congressional committee (looking into the cause of big city riots this summer) included the charge that the Office of Economic Opportunity funds were going into a "liberation school" in Nashville held at St. Andrew's Episcopal Student Center. The police official termed this school a "hate-white" school.

It was first denied that the "liberation school" was a "hate white" school, or that it involved with federal anti-poverty money. Later, however, the Rev. J. Paschal Davis, chairman of the Metropolitan Action Committee in Nashville, admitted that links existed. He told the congressional committee that a leader of Nashville's Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee apparently ran the school; that this same individual drove a station wagon leased by the local OEO agency, and that this individual also was on a "propaganda payroll," moreover, that the OEO was paying the house rent of some of the teachers in the school.

After these disclosures were made, the bishops of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee rejected the "hate-white" school from the Episcopal Church where it was housed. They said that the "liberation school," which had pictures of insurrectionist Stokely Carmichael on its walls, taught "material" contrary to our Christian heritage.

Ejection of this school from a church was certainly necessary. Unfortunately, this one action will not put an end to the use of churches for harmful political purposes. Many denominations and inter-denominational organizations are deeply involved in political movements destructive of genuine peace and good will. In Washington, D. C., for instance, H. Rap Brown, who was arrested on a charge of inciting a riot at Cambridge, Md. was later given a chance to make an inflammatory speech to a church. And in Rochester, N. Y., which has been the scene of brutal pressure against the Eastman Kodak Co., church organizations have been active in supporting the main agitation organization known as FIGHT.

The truth is that many churches, or individual leaders within the churches, have been busy sowing the seeds of civil disobedience and violence. Several years ago, hundreds of clergymen participated in a mammoth march on Washington. This march established a precedent for other and wider forms of mass protest and mass turmoil. In the last decade, hundreds of clergymen have taken part in marches and rallies in support of peace and peaceful communities and to get themselves arrested for the cause of peace. They have contributed to the clouds of strife which now hang over America and darken our national future.

Other church leaders — many of them sitting together in the National Council of Churches — have lobbied for the admission of Red China — the symbol of international violence and aggression — to the United Nations. Many churchmen have joined in appeals for the use of force against Rhodesia in the Republic of South Africa, because those states refused to bow before the winds of change — winds of savagery sweeping across the African continent.

The World Council of Churches has criticized the United States for defending the cause of freedom in Southeast Asia. At the same time, the WCC has opened its doors to "clergymen" from Iron Curtain countries, where the churches are virtual departments of the ruling regime.

It is apparent, therefore — and it saddens any true churchman to make this necessary statement — that many of the churches have contributed to national and international campaigns of hate. Truly, these churches and churchmen have much on their conscience. They are badly in need of reformation — of a return to historic Christian practices.

Is God Dead?

Sermonette by Rev. Madison W. Sindle, Pastor of the Belle Glade Church of God, 301 S. E. Avenue E, Belle Glade.

When it came to my attention that certain clergymen and Bible seminars were suggesting that God was dead, such a theory amazed all of us and we considered such thinking unbelievable.

The argument presented is that because of the trouble with the world and the nation in its riots, Vietnam, increase in crime, juvenile delinquency, etc., that if there was a God then these things could not happen.

We must not forget, however, that God must depend on men to do his work for him. We are his hands, feet, and head and it is mankind that he brought these conditions about.

Man in his headlong surge for power, has forsaken God and his word, choosing instead to lean on his own understanding, yet God tells us that his ways are above our ways. It is easy to blame God for all that is taking place instead of acknowledging that we are responsible. God's word has told us plainly that events like this would take place in the last days before Christ's return. This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholiness, without natural affection, true breakers, false accusers, incontinent, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high minded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away." 2 Timothy 3:1-5. Knowing then what God has said we have a clear indication that we are in the last days before the coming of the Lord.

In June the world was greatly concerned about confrontation of the Arabs and Israel and the possibility of world conflict that would threaten all of mankind.

But God has given the land to Israel as an everlasting possession, Gen. 17:8-9, and now the Jewish nation possesses all of Jerusalem and is now busily engaged in raising money to rebuild the Temple. This is another last day sign. We must look to Luke 21:28 "And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh." Let us prepare ourselves for His soon coming.

Kindergarten To Begin Term August 28

Saint Peter's Lutheran Kindergarten will begin its 1967-68 term on August 28, with an Open House from 8:30 to 10 a.m.

At this time, the parents and pupils will have the opportunity to view the Kindergarten and meet Mrs. Nada Snyder, teacher and Reverend Richard Roseman, Pastor.

The first regular day of Kindergarten will be Tuesday, August 29 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. On Wednesday, August 30 at 8:30 a.m., the first weekly Kindergarten worship service will be conducted in the Church by Pastor Roseman.

The objectives of Saint Peter's Lutheran Kindergarten, Rev. Roseman said, is to teach and provide experiences which enable the child to develop into a happy wholesome, and interesting personality, and to train the child in those fundamentals which will prepare him for citizenship in heaven and in this country. Thus, the Kindergarten seeks to educate the whole child spiritually, mentally, physically, and socially. These aims seek to be accomplished by the following methods:

Spiritual development is brought about by daily presentation of Bible stories, application of these stories to life and prayer and worship. The mental, social and physical development is brought about by reading readiness, number concepts, language development, preliminary writing, music appreciation, natural science, social studies, recreation, competent guidance, and communication with others.

At the completion of the year, the Kindergarten pupil will have learned such things as colors, shapes, and alphabet (recognition, recitation, and printing), numbers, and simple arithmetic (addition and subtraction).

If you wish further information about the Kindergarten, please call 996-5956 or 996-6721.

Youth Rally Planned

A three-day interdenominational "Youth for Truth" rally will be conducted by Ray Miller, August 24 through August 26, Thursday and Friday, regular services will be held at the Belle Glade Alliance Church, and Saturday there will be a "Lumpsum" in Jameson Hall at the Community Methodist Church, including refreshments, game time, and a film.

Rev. Miller, a former pastor in Port Wentworth, Ga., will be living in Belle Glade for two years, during which time he will be teaching at Belle Glade Junior High. He then plans to attend Toccoa Falls Bible College, Toccoa Falls, Ga.

Darlene Dupere who is home from Toccoa Falls Bible College for vacation will conduct a youth choir nightly. Sherry Burgess, who will be attending Furman University in the fall will be the organist. Larry Griffin will give his personal testimony Friday night telling what God has done for him. Rev. Miller reported.

Climaxing the 3-day "Youth for Truth" rally, a new gospel film entitled "I Hear a New Song," will be shown at the Community Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Saturday. This film attempts to cast a spiritual light on the status of modern music. It steers clear of mere platitudes, however, poses no past answers. The film sides with modern teenagers in their invariable quest for identity and significance in a world and an age no one quite understands.

"I Hear a New Song" tells the story of what happened to a church youth choir when members of the group began honestly admitting to themselves they like Rock 'n Roll better than "Rock of Ages." The prejudice ran very deep. They then agreed to take a "fourth" look at themselves, at their tastes, and the deepest implications of their faith. The result is a motion picture which has a valid and helpful message for both young people and adults.

Junior High through College age young people are cordially invited to attend all services. Rev. and Mrs. Miller wish to express their appreciation to all the pastors in the area who are so graciously cooperating with the rally.

Rev. and Mrs. Miller are praying that "Youth for Truth" can be developed into a regular Bible Club for all interested youth of the Belle Glade area. If interested, please contact the Millers for further information.

FAULT SEEKERS

Many of us are fault seekers. In perhaps, not a purposeful thing. We are merely unaware that we give the benefit of the doubt in any given situation only to an individual that we like or admire.

"Reverse-Cycle?" Never heard of it."

Well, Sir, electric Reverse-Cycle air conditioning is the 20th century's safest, cleanest, cheapest way to cool land heat a Florida home. It's flameless—no smoke, soot, or fumes—a clean break with the past. One small, compact unit gives you perfect indoor weather every day. You just twist a dial.

Furthermore, it filters out dirt, freshens the air, removes excess moisture. Keeps Florida families happier, more comfortable... helps Wouldn't you like to move into the 20th century along with the million happy Floridians now enjoying Reverse-Cycle air conditioning? See your electric air conditioning contractor or appliance dealer today.

Recall Ele Ordered

Water and sewer rates or recovery for the Pahokee Housing Authority (PHA) has to recall elections being ordered for Pahokee Council Lee Carroll Parker and R. Sanders.

A third councilman, Cur Miners, announced he will resign if the recall is successful.

The rate dispute, in addition to controversy on the elimination of three migrant car facilities and the construction of a $5,550,000 low cost housing project, spurred almost 200 Pahokee voters to sign the recall petition this week.

Leaders of the recall petition move to simplify the question by saying that Parker and Sanders are opposed to the PHA and its construction plans. Such opposition is denied by Parker, Sanders and Miners who say they are opposed to the granting of special water and sewer rates to the Housing Authority.

Parker said he was assured that his stand on the utility rates would not affect the progress of work on the proposed housing and should not be interpreted to mean he was opposed to the increase in low cost housing facilities.

Parker said he presented motion to the Council in October of 1966 in opposition to the sites of the new facility but had done nothing since that time to stop the project.

The special reduction in rates to the housing authority as requested, Parker said, unfair to other utility user. Parker indicated he would favor a plan that would give similar rates to all multi-unit users of the city utility. City Clerk I. Marshall La said 176 registered voters signatures were needed before Sept. 28 for a recall petition to be presented to the City Council. Monday, more than the required number had been obtained. The petition to recall Sanders was signed by 198, Parker's by 197. Over 200 who wished to sign the petitions were not registered voters, La said, and had to be registered first.

Petitions for the two councilmen and Curtis Miner were filed in May but only about 30 persons sign in the allotted 31 days.

If the city council does not order the recall election within 45 days the election will be ordered by the court.

In his October motion opposing the construction location, Parker said:

Boots Harv

Boots and Sons has finished their eighth and ninth sweet corn harvesters for the fresh market.

These harvesters, designed and constructed by Vernie A. Boots, are now in use from Florida to Minnesota.

The first model of this harvester has been used for two years by Fritz Stein locally. It was an experimental machine, Boots said, and it will be re-modeled to incorporate later innovations.

Another harvester of the earlier type was used last year
